

My Family History

Today I'm going to be talking about my family history and what they used back in the old days. My great grandmother is a lovely and extraordinary lady. Although I have not got to know her very well her daughter my grandma has showed and taught me many things about her. Great grandma grew up with seven kids in her family including herself in NewZealand.

Back when my great grandma was young they did not have awesome transportation like we have now. For their transportation they used horses or a cart. Another name for cart is a buggy or a sulky.

Because my great grandma lived out of town she had to board with her aunties in town so that she could get to school.

When my great grandma was a young lady she married my great grandpa poppy and they lived in a great house and they had 5 wonderful children.

This year 2013 my great grandma turned ninety and I cant wait until she turns 100 I know she can make it.
